Thank you for sharing the details, Varma.

I've added you as a speaker on the conference website and also attached a couple of graphics for you to share with your connections. Please tag us @CSharpDotTV and use the hashtag #SoftwareArchitectureConf when you share. We will make sure to reshare it with that said, we also promote you from our end.

Three weeks before the conference I will drop you the calendar invite that will have your exact session timings and the speaking joining URL.

Thank you so much once again and I can't wait to host you.

Namaste!

Hi Varma,

Congratulations! Your session, "Simplifying Multi-Cloud Observability" has been accepted for this year's Software Architecture Conference. Please share the following details so we can add you as a speaker on the conference website and share the promotional graphics with you.

1. High-Quality Headshot Photo
2. Designation
3. Any preferred time slot for the session

Software Architecture Conference is now a two-day virtual conference scheduled on August 15-16 that will be live-streamed on social media platforms like Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn, Twitter, Twitch, and CSharp TV. The audience will be able to ask questions through chats and you will see those comments inside the StreamYard - the tool we use for streaming. The duration of each session is 35 minutes and the target audience is developers and IT professionals.

Three weeks before the conference I will drop you the calendar invite that will have your exact session timings and the speaking joining URL.

Meanwhile, if you have any queries or suggestions then please let me know.

Namaste!
